Your partner in creating impact and belonging by bravely welcoming all

MEET Nikotris

Nikotris, a proud native of Milwaukee, WI, is a consultant and coach steadfast in helping create a more equitable society. Her signature talks, training sessions and workshops increase innovation, inclusivity, and impact, as a pathway to our collective liberation. Grounded in history while focusing on the present and future, Nikotris offers best practices, promising guidelines and research based options that welcome all identities.

Intentional about remaining abreast of the newest information centered around diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI), Nikotris is an avid reader and active researcher. In fact, over the last 20 years, Nikotris has worked with individuals, communities, and institutions, nationally and globally, to create brave safe spaces that value all voices. In booking Nikotris, leaders and organizations exclaim they are able to shift institutionalized behavior that oftentimes devalues the voice and experiences of systemically oppressed people. Additionally, she is currently finishing her doctoral degree in Urban Studies at UW-Milwaukee focused on practices of Beloved Community, Whether providing technical assistance or facilitating a workshop/training, Nikotris is able to help institutions identify key performance indicators. Nikotris and her team of professionals uses this data address equity deficiencies, and to ensure progress is being made without apology.

Nikotris is a proven leader and a true advocate for Black people, demanding consistent self-reflection and vulnerable accountability from everyone including herself. With a proven track record of increasing impact and belonging by providing brand specific strategies and solutions that bravely welcomes all identities, Nikotris is dedicated to together, believing we can correct mistakes corporately, and take bold actions to develop better leaders and ambassadors for tomorrow.

“Nikotris beautifully takes our program initiatives and designs rich workshops that challenge students, encouraging them to respect differences in one another, to honor their own personal well-being and to practice thoughtful engagements with others.”
